

ABSTRACT OF THE DISCLOSURE

PROCESS FOR CREATING MILK FOAM, USING AEROSOL DELIVERY SYSTEM

Herein is disclosed a method for creating milk foam, a common topping for specialty coffee drinks, without steam or heat coagulation. An aerosol delivery system and a protein-rich emulsion form a product that, when dispensed and heated by microwave, is very similar in taste, texture, and appearance to steam-produced milk foam.